A. Catalog Course Description/Special Requirements (Prerequisites/Out of Class Meetings)

This course will address the epistemology, paradigms, and theoretical orientations of scientific inquiry using a variety of qualitative approaches to knowledge building and research. It is designed to prepare students to carry out individual research projects using qualitative methods within their areas of interest. Substantive content will include the research process using qualitative methodologies including discussions of knowledge development, study designs, data collection and analysis, and dissemination. A primary means of instruction will be service-learning. The service-learning component of this course will involve the students conducting qualitative program evaluation activities (i.e., data collection, data analysis, data reporting for dissemination); the resulting report will be a manuscript suitable for publication.

B. Measurable Student Learning Outcomes

At the conclusion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of qualitative approaches to knowledge building in social work practice.
2. Critically examine qualitative studies with emphasis on issues regarding cultural diversity, gender, sexual orientation, and other sensitive topics (social and economic justice, oppression and populations at risk).
3. Identify the differences and similarities in approaches between qualitative, quantitative and mixed method research as they are used in social work research.
4. Understand the relevance of social, cultural, economic and other diversity factors in the selection of topics, the methods employed, the nature of analysis, and the conclusions drawn in qualitative research.
5. Identify and use common methods of qualitative data collection.
6. Analyze data collected using traditional and computer-based means.
7. Interpret data, reach meaningful conclusions, and identify implications for social work practice, policy and future research.
8. Understand the application of the Qualitative Interpretive Meta-Synthesis (QIMS) method for synthesizing qualitative studies.

C. Required Text(s) and Other Course Materials

Yin, R. (2011). Qualitative research from start to finish. New York: Guilford Press

D. Additional Recommended Text(s) and Other Course Materials

E. Major Course Assignments & Examinations

Course Assignments (Subject to Modification)

Class assignments (except for the midterm exam) will build toward a comprehensive qualitative project that will end in a manuscript suitable for publication. Due dates are in the course calendar later in this document.

Coding: Students will complete coding of a segment of data using Atlas.ti. (20 points)

Qualitative Article Critique. Students will select one of the studies from their QIMS and critique the study on the following aspects: data collection, credibility (as described by Patton), theory, presentation, and discussion. (40 points)

Qualitative Interpretive Meta-Synthesis on your topic of study. This will result in a publication where you are the sole author.

This should be written in journal article format including (100 points):

1. Introduction—about 1 page
2. Literature Review—2-3 pages
3. Method—1-3 pages including:
   - Credibility Statement: Guidelines (Patton, 1999) and samples (e.g., Dillon, 1989; dissertations in blackboard; some assigned readings) are available via Blackboard.
   - Quorum Chart
   - Literature Search Narrative
   - Data Analysis Narrative
4. Results—10-15 pages (including tables, figures, etc.) including:

- Table 1—Demographics (see sample articles for how to format)
- Table 2—Original Themes (see sample articles for how to format)
- Table 3—New Themes (see sample articles for how to format)
- Figure(s)—as needed to demonstrate findings (e.g., concept maps)
- Narrative of Results with Quotations from Participants

5. Discussion—2-3 pages
6. Reflective post-script—1 page or less
7. References—up to 5 pages

QIMS Presentation: The presentation should, at a minimum, explain the project, your reflections on the experience, the results, and how it further guides you toward your dissertation. (20 pts.)

QIMS Research Journal: QIMS requires much documentation of steps and processes (e.g., search terms, studies reviewed, reasons for selecting or excluding studies). A research journal is most helpful in documenting these aspects. Please keep this in a Word document. Topics are somewhat up to you but the required entries are as follows (you may add others as needed to document your process). This should equip you to create the method section of the manuscript where you describe how you arrived at your sample. (See example QIMS manuscripts in Blackboard). (20 points)

1. Planned topic.
2. First round of searching: search terms used, # of results, refinements, etc.
3. Topic refinement: search terms, etc.
4. Additional iterations of searches based on topic refinement.
5. Documentation of triangulation outcomes, activities and meetings.

Midterm. This is designed to provide students with an examination experience similar to the qualifying exam. (100 points)

Optional Conference Abstract (for practice and feedback): Abstract Submission to the Society of Social Work Research (SSWR) —Due date is tentative.

Expectations for written work

All written work is to follow APA style. Text citations and reference lists must be in correct APA (6th ed.) format. Though the manual is helpful, it is not necessary to purchase it as two websites are available to you that are accurate. The Purdue University OWL APA website and the APA’s website are the only websites you should use to assist you with APA. The professor does not approve of other websites nor of computer programs which automatically construct citations for you. These usually have errors. The websites on the rubrics are hand-picked by the professor and match her grading criteria. All sentences should be carefully comprised of a student’s own words. Ideas, information, and concepts that originated from any other source, as well as quotations (which should be used sparingly) must be correctly cited in APA style. Material that is not correctly cited is considered to be plagiarized and provides grounds for academic discipline. Assignments should be carefully proofed for spelling and grammar.

F. Grading Policy

In most cases, expect the professor to grade assignments within 2-3 weeks of the due date. If you have questions about your grade, check the grade book on Blackboard. Do not ask when the professor will assign grades. FERPA, a federal law that provides privacy to university students, severely limits the professor’s ability to discuss grades over the internet or phone. Consequently, the professor discusses grades in person. Do not email the professor about your grades, rather check Blackboard. If you have questions about grades posted in Blackboard, send the professor an email to make an appointment.
Final Grade Calculation

Total maximum pts. = 300 pts.

A = 270 +
B = 269-240
C = 239-210
D = 209-180
F = 179 and below

Generally, the professor will not grant an “incomplete” grade. The professor assigns “incomplete” grades only in rare circumstances.

Course Syllabus and Due Date Modifications

Modifications to assignments and the class schedule may be necessary. Modifications to these items and the course syllabus, if needed, will be made after consultation with students.

Students are expected to keep track of their performance throughout the semester and seek guidance from available sources (including the instructor) if their performance drops below satisfactory levels; see “Student Support Services,” below.

G. Make-Up Exam or Assignment Policy

This is handled on a case-by-case basis in consultation with the instructor.

H. Attendance Policy

At The University of Texas at Arlington, taking attendance is not required. Rather, each faculty member is free to develop his or her own methods of evaluating students' academic performance, which includes establishing course-specific policies on attendance. As the instructor of this section,

It is my opinion that being PhD students, you know you need to be in class. Hence, I will not be taking attendance but expect you to put forth your best effort. If situations arise (e.g., a sick child) that compromise your ability to attend class, please contact me and we will work out a reasonable plan.

N. Emergency Exit Procedures

Should we experience an emergency event that requires us to vacate the building, students should exit the room and move toward the nearest exits, which are the stairwells located at either end of the adjacent hallway. When exiting the building during an emergency, one should never take an elevator but should use the stairwells. Faculty members and instructional staff will assist students in selecting the safest route for evacuation and will make arrangements to assist individuals with disabilities.

O. Drop Policy

Students may drop or swap (adding and dropping a class concurrently) classes through self-service in MyMav from the beginning of the registration period through the late registration period. After the late registration period, students must see their academic advisor to drop a class or withdraw. Undeclared students must see an advisor in the University Advising Center. Drops can continue through a point two-thirds of the way through the term or session. It is the student’s responsibility to officially withdraw if they do not plan to attend.
after registering. Students will not be automatically dropped for non-attendance. Repayment of certain types of financial aid administered through the University may be required as the result of dropping classes or withdrawing. For more information, contact the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships (http://wweb.uta.edu/aoa/fao/).

A period of five class days prior to the first day of final examinations in the long sessions shall be designated as Final Review Week. The purpose of this week is to allow students sufficient time to prepare for final examinations. During this week, there shall be no scheduled activities such as required field trips or performances; and no instructor shall assign any themes, research problems or exercises of similar scope that have a completion date during or following this week unless specified in the class syllabus. During Final Review Week, an instructor shall not give any examinations constituting 10% or more of the final grade, except makeup tests and laboratory examinations. In addition, no instructor shall give any portion of the final examination during Final Review Week. During this week, classes are held as scheduled. In addition, instructors are not required to limit content to topics that have been previously covered; they may introduce new concepts as appropriate.
