Required Textbooks and Other Course Materials: Introduction to Operations Management, McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc., 2012. ISBN-10: 1121488323. ISBN-13: 9781121488328. This is a custom version of a larger text that was compiled specifically for use at UTA; the custom version is available through the UTA bookstore. The Online Access License for McGraw-Hill’s Connect Plus will be required for this course section, and the least-cost way to acquire this is to buy a new version of the text from the UTA Book Store.

The authors of the extended text are Robert F. Jacobs and Richard Chase. The extended textbook is Operations and Supply Chain Management: The Core, Third Edition (The McGraw-Hill/Irwin Series in Operations and Decision Sciences) ISBN-13: 978-0-07-352523-5. Students interested in obtaining the extended text (instead of the standard text) with full-color graphics, statistical reference tables, and additional content not covered in the introductory course can purchase it directly from the publisher or from an independent source such as Amazon.com. If you choose this option you are responsible for ensuring that you are purchasing the Connect Plus Online Access License along with the textbook.

Students may be required to purchase case studies, user licenses for in-class simulations, or other supplemental materials. Additional suggested readings will be posted in Blackboard and/or made available from the UTA Library.
What’s New / What You Should Know About This Course Section:

1. This section of OPMA 3306 uses SAP University Alliances curriculum materials, and provides students with hands-on user experience in the SAP enterprise resource planning system. Successful completion of this course can be counted toward the SAP Student Recognition Award. Information on that Award program is posted in the Blackboard course portal.

2. Video recordings of class sessions from prior semesters will be posted as needed in the Blackboard course portal for students to use as optional study aids.

3. Assignments and quantitative problems, with solutions and explanations, will be available to students in McGraw-Hill’s Connect Plus online portal. These materials are a new addition to this course section.

Grades are earned on the basis of performance, not given on the basis of effort or need. Your grade represents your performance in this course, not your potential as a student or as a human. If you feel an error has been made in the calculation of your grade, you may contact the instructor via e-mail. Grades are otherwise non-negotiable.

Blackboard Course Portal: Blackboard is the online content management utility for courses at UTA. Course announcements, assignment instructions, and assessments will be available on the Blackboard portal for this class. Each student is responsible for establishing access to the Blackboard course portal, for activating utilities such as the Respondus Lockdown Browser as needed, and for contacting the UTA Help Desk as needed to resolve any technical problems with Blackboard.
Detailed instructions for individual and team assignments will be posted in the Blackboard course portal. Homework/quiz assignments, and possibly some exams, may also be completed in Blackboard. Students should use Mozilla Firefox or Microsoft Internet Explorer as the browser for any Blackboard work; the Google Chrome browser is not supported. Students should use the Blackboard portal to initiate any e-mail communication with the Instructor, as this will cause your course number and section number to be displayed in the subject line of the e-mail message.

Course Schedule and Due Dates: Examinations, assignments, and due dates are presented in the Course Schedule below. The instructor reserves the right to modify the Course Schedule, course content, and point values associated with graded components as needed in response to events that occur during the semester. Any such changes will be discussed during class meetings. It is the student’s responsibility to be aware of these changes.
Assignment Deadlines and Late Submissions: Homework assignments and team project deliverables are due to be submitted in Blackboard by 11:59pm Central time on the due date specified in this Syllabus, in the Blackboard course portal, or announced in class. Some assignments may be designated by the instructor for delivery in hard-copy form during specified class meetings.

Late submission of homework quiz assignments and other graded individual assignments will not be accepted for grade credit. Late submission of group project deliverables will result in a penalty of 10% of the total available points for each day after the specified due date.

Make-Up Exams: Make-up exams are generally not available in this course. Exceptions will be applied to special circumstances such as (a) conflicts with participation in University-sponsored events, or (b) military service obligations.

In those rare cases, the conflict must be communicated to the Instructor via UTA e-mail in advance of the time slot scheduled for the exam. At the Instructor’s discretion, the make-up mechanism may be (a) double-counting the number of points earned on the next scheduled exam, (b) a different exam from the one administered on the scheduled date, or (c) an individual case study or research paper assignment.

Documentation of circumstances requiring a make-up exam will be required, and misrepresenting such circumstances is a violation of the University’s Academic Integrity policy.

Expectations for Out-of-Class Study: A general rule of thumb at UTA is that for every credit hour earned, a student should spend 3 hours per week working outside of class in a 16-week Fall or Spring semester course. Hence, a 3-credit course would have a minimum expectation of 9 hours of reading, study, etc. Accordingly, in addition to the time required to attend each class meeting, students enrolled in this 3-credit course should expect to spend an average of at least 9 hours per week of their own time in course-related activities. This would include reading the required materials, completing assignments, preparing for exams, working on team projects, etc.

Attendance Policy: At The University of Texas at Arlington, taking attendance is not required. Rather, each faculty member is free to develop his or her own methods of evaluating students’ academic performance, which includes establishing course-specific policies on attendance. As the instructor of this section, I have established the policies set out here for attendance policy and class participation credit.

Regular class attendance is an absolute necessity for success in this course. If you must miss class for any reason, you are responsible for the material you missed and will need to work with your classmates (not the instructor) to obtain class notes and otherwise determine what you missed. Any class attendance and lateness policies introduced in this class include by reference all provisions for grade adjustment or drop policies included in the applicable Graduate or Undergraduate Catalog in effect at the start of the semester. No student will be dropped from the class rolls for never attending class or for accumulating excess absences. Your attendance in this course will affect your class participation credit, as explained below.

Class Participation Credit: You are presumed to be participating at a satisfactory level if you are able to (a) contribute in a positive way to class discussion voluntarily or when called upon by the instructor, (b) contribute to in-class team exercises dealing with textbook discussion questions, case studies, enterprise resource planning application exercises, or other assigned readings, and (c) contribute effectively to team research assignments and presentations.

Work outside of class: Any assigned online exams, quizzes, or other graded individual assignments (as opposed to team project assignments) are to be completed by each student individually. You are not to collaborate with, or receive assistance from, anyone else on these assignments.

Laptops and other electronic devices: There are instances in which learning is enhanced by the use of laptops or tablet computers during class. Use of these devices in the classroom is acceptable as long as the use of these devices does not distract students or the instructor in any way. The instructor reserves the right to designate the classroom as an electronic device-free zone at any time.

Classroom behavior: Students in this class will likely come from a variety of cultures and educational backgrounds. Although standards for classroom conduct vary across cultures, we will conform to expectations that are common in higher education in the U.S. Unless the instructor specifically says otherwise, during classroom sessions students should abide by the following policy: If you're not talking with the instructor, you should not be talking at all. Your participation in classroom discussion is required and assumed. Negative grade adjustments may be applied if you fail or refuse to participate in classroom discussions, behave in a way that disrupts the class, or leave the classroom early without consulting the instructor.

Drop Policy: Students may drop or swap (adding and dropping a class concurrently) classes through self-service in MyMav from the beginning of the registration period through the late registration period. After the late registration period, students must see their academic advisor to drop a class or withdraw. Undeclared students must see an advisor in the University Advising Center. Drops can continue through a point two-thirds of the way through the term or session. It is the student's responsibility to officially withdraw if they do not plan to attend after registering. Students will not be automatically dropped for non-attendance. Repayment of certain types of financial aid administered through the University may be required as the result of dropping classes or withdrawing. For more information, contact the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships (http://wweb.uta.edu/aao/fao/).

Americans with Disabilities Act: The University of Texas at Arlington is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of all federal equal opportunity legislation, including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). All instructors at UT Arlington are required by law to provide "reasonable accommodations" to students with disabilities, so as not to discriminate on the basis of that disability. Any student requiring an accommodation for this course must provide the instructor with official documentation in the form of a letter certified by the staff in the Office for Students with Disabilities, University Hall 102. Only those students who have officially documented a need for an accommodation will have their request honored. Information regarding diagnostic criteria and policies for obtaining disability-based academic accommodations can be found at www.uta.edu/disability or by calling the Office for Students with Disabilities at (817) 272-3364.

Title IX: The University of Texas at Arlington is committed to upholding U.S. Federal Law “Title IX” such that no member of the UT Arlington community shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity. For more information, visit www.uta.edu/titleIX.

Academic Integrity: Students enrolled all UT Arlington courses are expected to adhere to the UT Arlington Honor Code:

I pledge, on my honor, to uphold UT Arlington’s tradition of academic integrity, a tradition that values hard work and honest effort in the pursuit of academic excellence. I promise that I will submit only work that I personally create or contribute to group collaborations, and I will appropriately reference any work from other sources. I will follow the highest standards of integrity and uphold the spirit of the Honor Code.

UT Arlington faculty members may employ the Honor Code as they see fit in their courses, including (but not limited to) having students acknowledge the honor code as part of an examination or requiring students to incorporate the honor code into any work submitted. Per UT System Regents’ Rule 50101, §2.2, suspected violations of university’s standards for academic integrity (including the Honor Code) will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct. Violators will be disciplined in accordance with University policy, which may result in the student’s suspension or expulsion from the University.

Electronic Communication: UT Arlington has adopted MavMail as its official means to communicate with students about important deadlines and events, as well as to transact university-related business regarding financial aid, tuition, grades, graduation, etc. All students are assigned a MavMail account and are responsible for checking the inbox regularly. There is no additional charge to students for using this account, which remains active even after graduation. Information about activating and using MavMail is available at http://www.uta.edu/oit/cs/email/mavmail.php.

Student Feedback Survey: At the end of each term, students enrolled in classes categorized as “lecture,” “seminar,” or “laboratory” shall be directed to complete an online Student Feedback Survey (SFS). Instructions on how to access the SFS for this course will be sent directly to each student through MavMail approximately 10 days before the end of the term. Each student’s feedback enters the SFS database anonymously and is aggregated with that of other students enrolled in the course. UT Arlington’s effort to solicit, gather, tabulate, and publish student feedback is required by state law; students are strongly urged to participate. For more information, visit http://www.uta.edu/sfs.

Final Review Week: A period of five class days prior to the first day of final examinations in the long sessions shall be designated as Final Review Week. The purpose of this week is to allow students sufficient time to prepare for final examinations. During this week, there shall be no scheduled activities such as required field trips or performances; and no instructor shall assign any themes, research problems or exercises of similar scope that have a completion date during or following this week unless specified in the class syllabus. During Final Review Week, an instructor shall not give any examinations constituting 10% or more of the final grade, except makeup tests and laboratory examinations. In addition, no instructor shall give any portion of the final examination during Final Review Week. During this week, classes are held as scheduled. In addition, instructors are not required to limit content to topics that have been previously covered; they may introduce new concepts as appropriate.

Emergency Exit Procedures: Should we experience an emergency event that requires us to vacate the building, students should exit the room and move toward the nearest exit, which is at a location to be discussed in our first class meeting. When exiting the building during an emergency, one should never take an elevator but should use the stairwells. Faculty members and instructional staff will assist students in selecting the safest route for evacuation and will make arrangements to assist individuals with disabilities.

Student Support Services: UT Arlington provides a variety of resources and programs designed to help students develop academic skills, deal with personal situations, and better understand concepts and information related to their courses. Resources include tutoring, major-based learning centers, developmental education, advising and mentoring, personal counseling, and federally funded programs. For individualized referrals, students may visit the reception desk at University College (Ransom Hall), call the Maverick Resource Hotline at 817-272-6107, send a message to resources@uta.edu, or view the information at www.uta.edu/resources.
